Summary of the TweetMyJobs Jobs Platform for Government

TweetMyJobs' Government solution is a white-labeled technology platform that matches local job seekers with employers that are hiring and also provides powerful employment analytics to government entities. The TweetMyJobs Jobs Platform for Government is built on web, social media and mobile technology and is the perfect complement to jobs creation initiatives.

The platform serves three groups: Job Seekers, Employers and the Government entity. For the first group, Job Seekers, the platform sends relevant job matches when they want them and where they want them. TweetMyJobs is a "push" technology, so instead of the job seeker needing to check the website several times a day. TweetMyJobs will push relevant jobs to the job seeker via web, email, mobile or social media.

For Employers, TweetMyJobs, is a cost-saving and cutting-edge solution to their hiring needs. Employers can post a position free of charge and then have that position distributed to well-matched job seekers via web, email, mobile or social media. Employers will have access to a dashboard that provides analytics on the performance of their jobs so they can measure and track their recruiting efforts.

For the County, TweetMyJobs creates a single localized platform for jobs to facilitate connectivity among job seekers and employers, meanwhile providing the county with robust analytics. TweetMyJobs' Push technology is unique in the recruiting world and will push job matches to job seekers wherever they choose – web, email, mobile or social media. Every part of the platform, from the site itself to email notifications, will be custom-branded in the name of the county.

Demonstration of Extensive Experience

TweetMyJobs has powered Nassau County's NassauWorks platform since February 2013. Since January 2012, the TweetMyJobs' Government platform has been implemented by the following government customers: The City of Atlanta, GA; The City of Newark, NJ; Ramapo and Rockland County, NY; Puerto Rico; Columbia, SC; Houston, TX; Albany County, NY; Allentown, PA; and Wilmington, DE.
